

Abstract

The invention relates to new drug combinations based on sodium channel blockers 1 and magnesium salts 2, processes for the preparation thereof as well 5 as the use thereof for preparing pharmaceutical compositions for the treatment of ischaemic conditions.